

Senior Engineer – Water Wastewater

This position, based in our Cork or Dublin office, reporting to Associate - Environmental Engineering Department, requires the following attributes from the ideal candidate;

Key Responsibilities

- Assist with development of water/wastewater sector within FTC.
- Responsible for day to day management of projects – budgets, resources, etc.
- Design of water supply and sewerage schemes, including water and wastewater treatment processes and hydraulic modelling
- Client and Contractor liaison.

Skills / Qualifications

- Ideally the candidate will hold a degree in Civil Engineering (post-graduate qualifications in water/wastewater engineering would be an advantage).
- The candidate must have a minimum of 8-10 years post-graduate experience.
- The candidate must have experience in water and/or wastewater engineering, including treatment process design, hydraulics, hydrology, statutory processes, etc.
- Candidate should be a high-energy professional with excellent communication, organisation and analytical skills.
- Key attributes also necessary include efficient work methods, working both as part of team and on own initiative.
- The ability to manage several priorities at once will be required as will a high level of commitment to success.

Applications can be made in writing to the HR Department, FTC, Core House, Pouladuff Road, Cork or alternatively by email to careers@ftco.ie. Please quote reference WWWSPE.

